

This Notebook Belongs to:

I. The only reliable basis for sound government and just human relations
is Natural Law.

2. A free people cannot survive
under a republican constitution
unless they remain virtuous
and morally strong.

3. The most promising method of securing a virtuous and morally stable people is to elect virtuous leaders.

4. Without religion the government of a free people cannot be maintained.

5. All things were created by God, therefore upon Him all mankind are equally dependent, and to Him they are equally responsible.

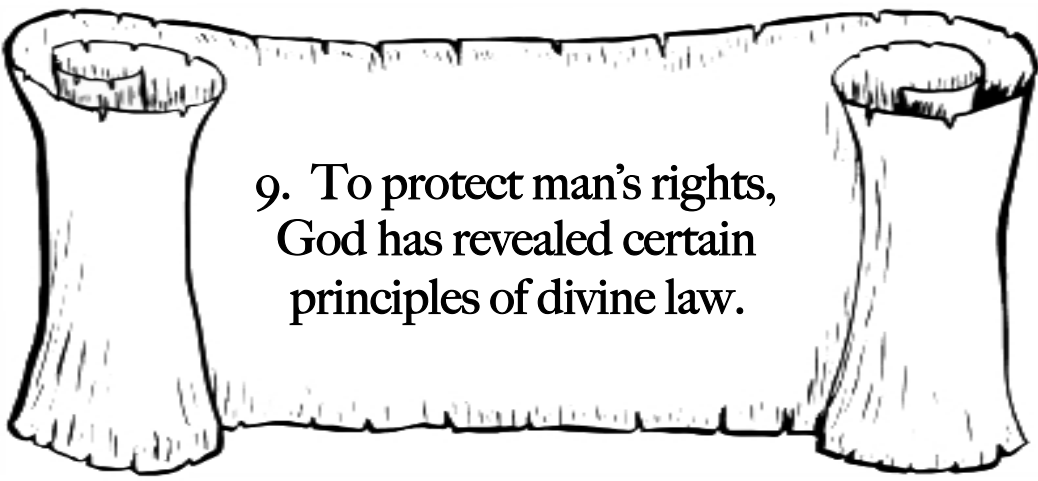

6. All men are created equal.

7. The proper role of government is to protect equal rights, not provide equal things.

8. Men are endowed by their creator with certain unalienable rights.

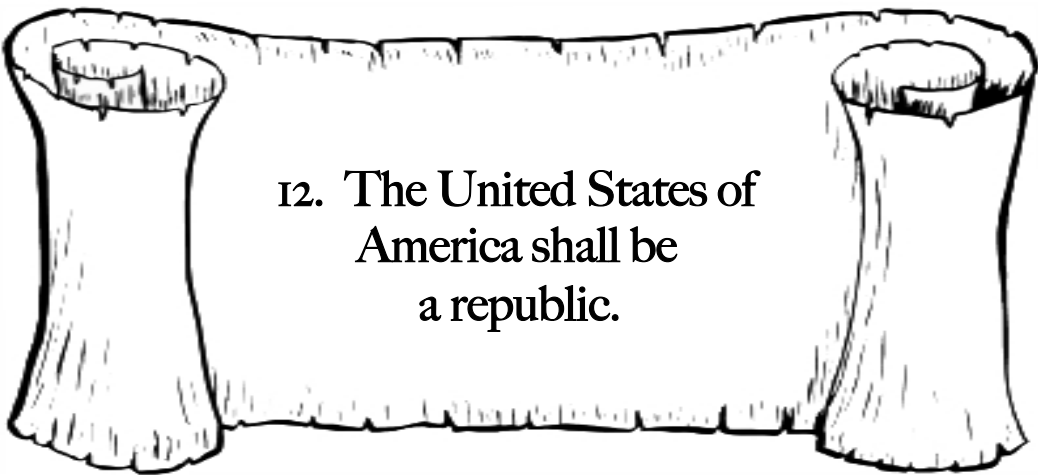

9. To protect man's rights,
God has revealed certain principles of divine law.

10. The God-given right to govern is vested in the sovereign authority
of the whole people.

II. The majority of the people may alter or abolish a government which has become tyrannical.

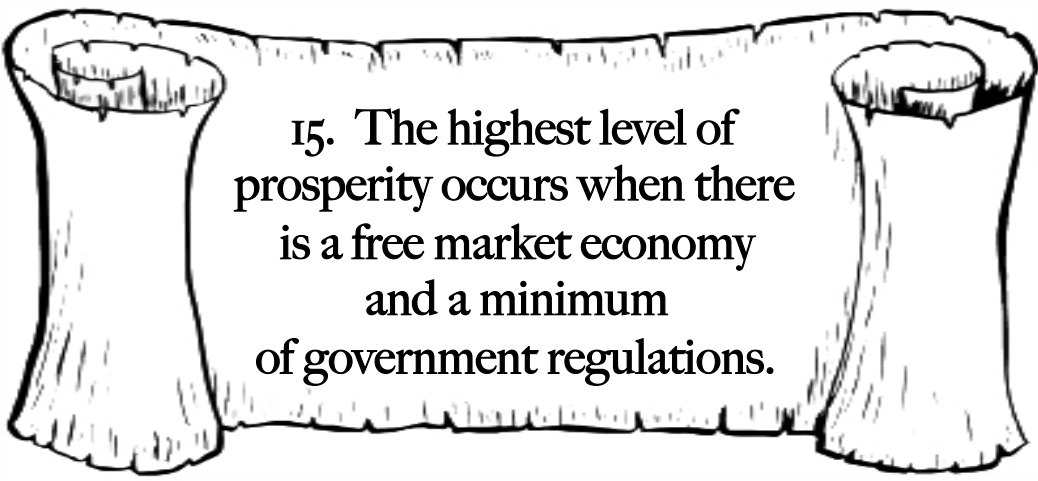

12. The United States of America shall be a republic.

13. A constitution should be structured to permanently protect the people from the human frailties of their rules.

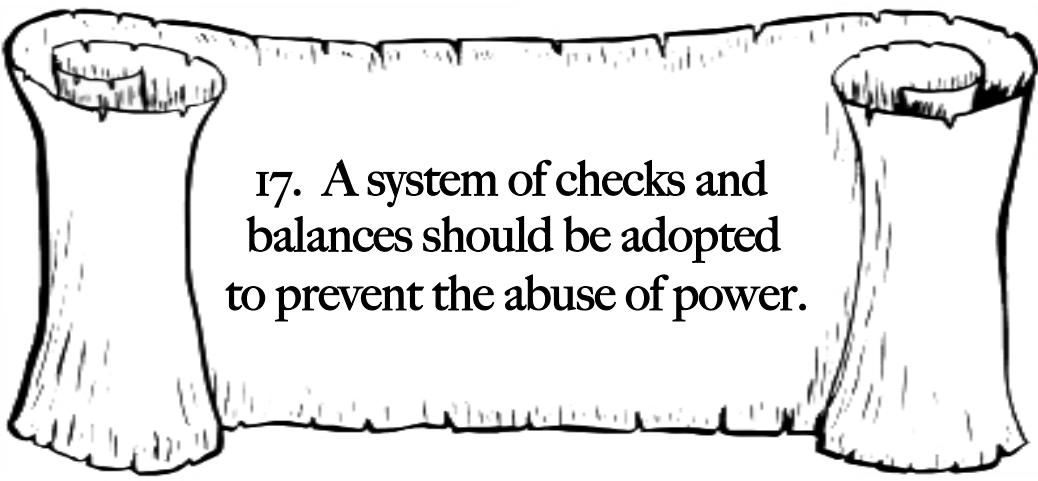

14. Life and liberty are secure only so long as the right of property is secure.

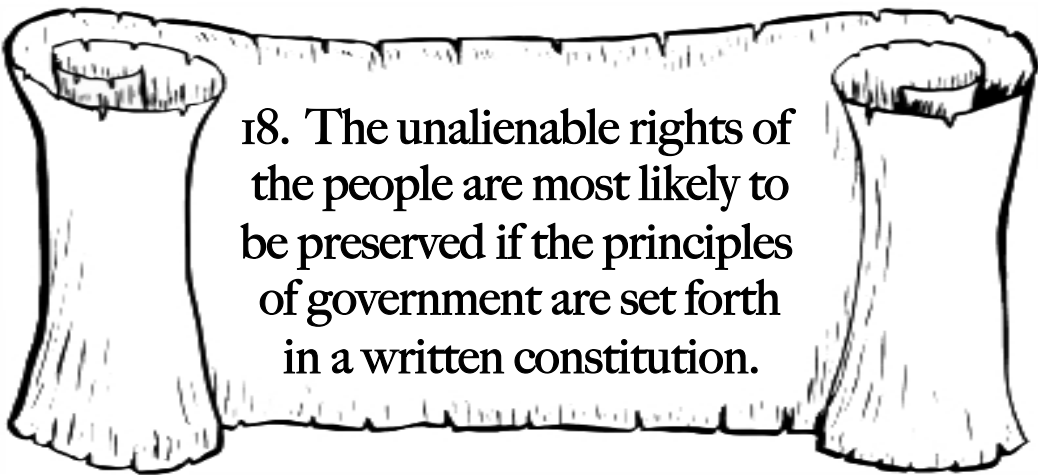

15. The highest level of prosperity occurs when there is a free market economy and a minimum of government regulations.

16. The government should be separated into three branches: legislative, executive, and judicial.

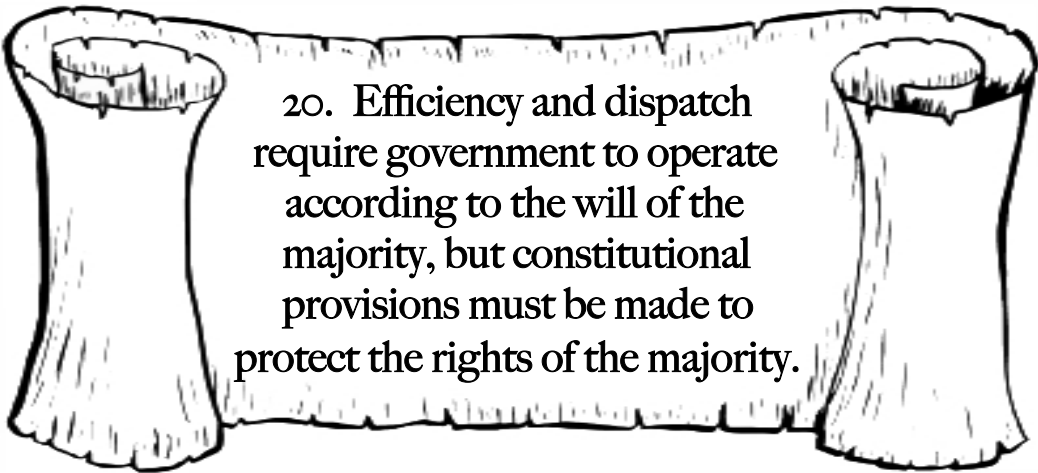

17. A system of checks and balances should be adopted to prevent the abuse of power.

18. The unalienable rights of the people are most likely to be preserved if the principles of government are set forth in a written constitution.

19. Only limited and carefully defined powers should be delegated to government, all others being retained in the people.

20. Efficiency and dispatch require government to operate according to the will of the majority, but constitutional provisions must be made to protect the rights of the majority.

21. Strong local self-government is the keystone to preserving human freedom.

22. The free people should be governed by law and not by the whims of men.

23. A free society cannot survive
as a republic without a broad program of general education.

24. A free people will not survive
unless they stay strong.

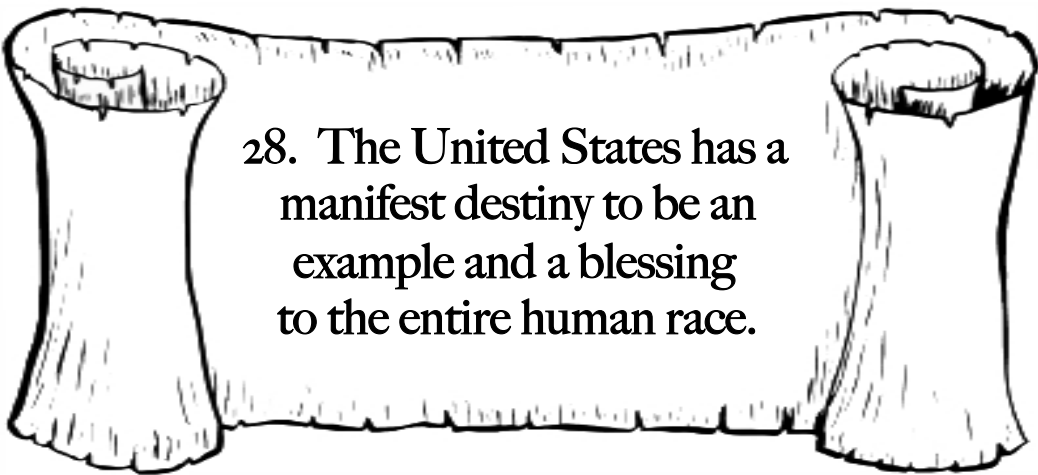

25. "Peace, commerce, and honest friendship with all nations: entangling alliances with none."

26. The core unit which determines the strength of any society is the family; therefore, the government should foster and protect its integrity.

27. The burden of debt is as destructive to freedom as subjugation by conquest.

28. The United States has a manifest destiny to be an example and a blessing to the entire human race.

Memorization Cards Pocket

*The 28
Principles of Liberty*

Fold behind title and glue side flaps down

1. The only reliable basis for sound government and
just human relations
is Natural Law.

2. A free people cannot survive
under a republican constitution
unless they remain virtuous
and morally strong.

3. The most promising method of securing a virtuous and morally stable people is to elect virtuous leaders.

4. Without religion the government of a free people cannot be maintained.

5. All things were created by God, therefore upon Him all mankind are equally dependent, and to Him they are equally responsible.

6. All men are created equal.

7. The proper role of government is to protect equal rights, not provide equal things.

8. Men are endowed by their creator with certain unalienable rights.

9. To protect man's rights, God has revealed certain principles of divine law.

9. To protect man's rights,
God has revealed certain
principles of divine law.

10. The God-given right to govern is vested in the sovereign authority
of the whole people.

11. The majority of the people may alter or abolish a government which has become tyrannical.

12. The United States of America shall be a republic.

13. A constitution should be structured to permanently protect the people from the human frailties of their rules.

14. Life and liberty are secure only so long as the right of property is secure.

15. The highest level of prosperity occurs when there is a free market economy and a minimum of government regulations.

16. The government should be separated into three branches: legislative, executive, and judicial.

17. A system of checks and balances should be adopted to prevent the abuse of power.

Memorization Cards

18. The unalienable rights of the people are most likely to be preserved if the principles of government are set forth in a written constitution.

19. Only limited and carefully defined powers should be delegated to government, all others being retained in the people.

20. Efficiency and dispatch require government to operate according to the will of the majority, but constitutional provisions must be made to protect the rights of the majority.

21. Strong local self-government
is the keystone to preserving human freedom.

22. The free people should be governed by law and not
by the whims of men.

23. A free society cannot survive
as a republic without a broad program of
general education.

24. A free people will not survive
unless they stay strong.

25. "Peace, commerce, and honest friendship with all nations: entangling alliances with none."

26. The core unit which determines the strength of any society is the family;
therefore, the government should foster and protect its integrity.

Memorization Cards

A black and white line drawing of a scroll. The scroll is unrolled in the center, with two cylindrical sections on either side that are rolled up. The edges of the scroll are jagged, suggesting it is made of parchment or old paper. The text is centered on the unrolled portion.

27. The burden of debt is as destructive to freedom as subjugation by conquest.

A black and white line drawing of a scroll, identical in style to the one above. It features a central unrolled section and two rolled-up cylindrical ends. The text is centered on the unrolled portion.

28. The United States has a manifest destiny to be an example and a blessing to the entire human race.

Learn more about the 28 Principles of Freedom American Government and US Constitution Part 1

<http://www.nccsstore.com/American-Government-US-Constitution-Part-1/productinfo/AMGOV1/>

PRINCIPLES OF LIBERTY

1. The only viable basis for sound government and just human relations is Natural Law.
2. A free people cannot survive under a constitution founded on man's frail, finite, selfish, and worldly values.
3. The most promising method of ensuring a virtuous and morally stable people is to elect virtuous leaders.
4. Without religion, the government of a free people cannot be instituted.
5. All things were created by God, therefore upon Him all mankind are equally dependent, and to Him they are equally responsible.
6. All men are created equal.
7. The proper role of government is to protect equal rights, not provide legal things.
8. Men are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights.
9. To protect man's rights, God has revealed certain principles of His law.
10. The God-given right to govern is vested in the sovereign authority of the whole people.
11. The majority of the people may alter or abolish a government which has become tyrannical.
12. The United States of America shall be a republic.
13. A constitution should be dedicated to permanently protect the people from the harmful effects of their rulers.
14. Life and liberty are secure only so long as the right of property is secure.
15. The highest level of prosperity occurs when there is a free market economy and a minimum of government regulations.
16. The government should be separated into three branches: legislative, executive, and judicial.
17. A system of checks and balances should be adopted to prevent the abuse of power.
18. The unalienable rights of the people are most likely to be preserved if the principles of government are set forth in a written constitution.
19. Only limited and carefully defined powers should be delegated to government, all others being retained by the people.
20. Efficiency and dispatch require government to operate according to the will of the majority, but constitutional rights must be made to protect the rights of the minority.
21. Strong local self-government is the key to preserving human freedom.
22. All that justice should be governed by law and not by the whims of men.
23. A free society cannot survive as a republic without a broad program of general education.
24. A free people will not survive unless they stay strong.
25. Peace, commerce, and honest friendship with all nations, exchanging alliances with none.
26. The covenant which determines the strength of any society is the family. Therefore, the government should foster and protect its integrity.
27. The service of debt is as destructive to freedom as negligence by Congress.
28. The United States has a special destiny to be an example and a blessing to the entire human race. Source: Our 28 Principles of the Founding Fathers website. Copyright © 1991, National Center for Constitutional Studies. All Rights Reserved. Visit us now.

28 Principles of Freedom Cards

<http://www.nccsstore.com/28-Principle-Cards/productinfo/28P/>