

We added these matchbooks to a half size poster and put it on the wall near a window. When the kids fill in their weather chart each day they refer to the poster and try to identify which type of cloud is in the sky.

You could also just cut off the bottom portion of the matchbook and make flashcards adding the definition to the back side. The flash cards to be added to a filing system or place them in a pocket and add them to a notebook or lapbook.
